The Lunchtime Fix

New non-invasive fat removal device LipoSonix throws down the challenge to all other procedures on the market. The real 'lunchtime fix', this procedure can be performed quickly with no cuts, minimal discomfort (nerves are unaffected), no anaesthetic and no downtime. Sound waves are delivered at high intensity and frequency essentially blasting and destroying carefully targeted fat cells while surrounding tissues, skin surface and underlying organs are left untouched.

Cosmetic surgeon Ms Angelica Kavouni FRCS EBOPRAS of 129 Harley Street is one of London's most requested female surgeons and has appeared on Channel 4's Embarrassing Bodies: "We are very excited to be one of the first UK clinics to invest in this new generation body sculpting device. It is great news for the patient as it actually works, keeps costs down and involves no downtime; for us it means we can accurately target stubborn fat pockets within the comfort of our clinic."

Ideal for sculpting bellies, waists and love handles, LipoSonix could be the answer to those stubborn pockets of fat that just won't shift.
